English Prologue

This is not a new teaching, or even a teaching, although everyone learns as they travel. I am attempting to show the pathway God laid out for human beings in the Garden of Eden and the path Jesus took so we could follow Him back into God's presence as citizens in His Kingdom. If you are tired of boring lectures without power, life, or destiny?

The Kingdom of God is here. The kingdom is still full of joy, peace, and excitement in today's world.

It is not God's future plan, but rather today's agenda. Therefore, the Lord is accepting volunteers to join the kingdom's goal of establishing the mindset of His kingdom in the hearts of believers today.

If you identify as a Christian, live with the hope of attaining Heaven, and believe you will be raptured out of the current cultural war, you have become a victim of the devil's schemes and a party to their success. He always wants you to delay accepting the things of God until it is too late for them to affect the world we live in today. Discover what Satan is stealing from you today.

Because Jesus has finished all things needed for life and Godliness, our family, city, state, country, and world's future depends upon our recognizing, believing, claiming, and living in all of the things of God today, not tomorrow.

God has established our identity as His child at the cross.

A willing and obedient heart is all it takes to live, move, and have your being, identity, and destiny in God. Therefore, passionately strive to establish a true legacy for your children. Without any exaggeration, I can say, enter at the risk of being forever changed!

Ambassadors of God

In a Kingdom like the Kingdom of God, the king is the government and the supreme ruling authority. His ambassadors are an extension of the government. They are authorized to act as Him when living in a foreign country. All citizens of the Kingdom of God have renounced their citizenship in Satan's kingdom of darkness. They have been translated into His Son's kingdom of light. They are now in a foreign country but not of that country.

Isaiah 9:6-7 KJV

(6) For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.

(7) Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever The zeal of the LORD of hosts will perform this.

Luke 12:32 KJV

(32) Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom.

Matthew 11:28-30 KJV

(28) Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

(29) Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls.

(30) For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

These verses show that Jesus came to bring us a government, not a religion. It is neither a government of religion nor a religious government. Isaiah announced the government. Jesus also revealed that the Father desired to give us the government. We are to take His government and carry that yoke as He had. Today, we are to assume the responsibility and weight of the government of the Kingdom of God.

The ambassador's first responsibility is to join with his fellow citizens. Therefore, establishing an embassy in this foreign country is one of His first duties. That embassy is considered the property of his own country. It provides a sanctuary for citizens who need refuge or aid. The sanctuary is not a lecture hall that the Ekklesia uses to perform its functions. They are to be led by the Holy Spirit and serve as the Spirit of God directs. No person is in command; God is. Only the Holy Spirit has authority; He uses it to teach and guide the people. He will choose whom He will use to accomplish His purposes that day.

The moment the ambassador accepts this position, the king provides him with everything he needs. He never has to furnish his own financing, transportation, shelter, food, clothing, or any other need. The king gives His ambassador complete protection and limitless power, authority, and resources.

The ambassador also uses the army of God, the angels. They always accompany the ambassador, aiding, protecting, and ministering to and for him as needed. If you were to insult the ambassador, it would be as though you had insulted the king. He embodies the government he represents.

The benefits and responsibilities of this new assignment are given and guaranteed in the New Covenant. The king has shed His blood to establish this covenant, and He oversees it to ensure our obedience. Jesus had the ministry of an Ambassador of God; He came from Heaven to this world to establish a colony of Heaven on earth.

Rebellion Today

A Christian is someone who identifies themselves as following Christ. However, this name first appeared in Antioch and was given to the people of God by the world. It certainly should describe anyone who has been born into the Kingdom of God. Nevertheless, God did not give His people this name, which lacks a God-ordained destiny. It is not wrong to allow others to call us by this name; I have done so for years. However, we should not accept it as our identity. Doing that is to take the identity the world has given us and the implied destiny it would wish for us: separation from God as a family member.

God blesses everyone according to His desires and plans. Still, He is not obligated by blood covenant to bless anyone not named in His covenant. The "Last Will and Testament" of God, called the New Testament, does not name "Christian" as an heir. To seek the identity, as His child, that He has given us, and the destiny that identity provides, as an heir of God's Kingdom, seems to be the wiser choice.

Embracing a name for ourselves is closely associated with adopting a destiny of our choice in the Kingdom of God. Therefore, it is quite common today to tell people who have recently accepted Christ that they are Heaven-bound. However, when we read the Lord's prayer, we will see that the Lord's purpose is to bring his kingdom to us, including the Kingdom of Heaven. The Lord never told us His goal was to fill Heaven with good people. The Kingdom of God is within us, and its expression, the Kingdom of Heaven, is within us, and of course, this establishes His rule within us. When we live in heavenly places, God has set our future home in us before our death. Satan's trick is to tell us to wait and try to get there after we die.

Genesis 11:1-9 tells the story of a people later known as the Babylonians. These people aimed to make a name for themselves, form a great city, and build their own way to God. They were all in one accord and spoke the same language. But unfortunately for them, God came down and confounded their language, disorganized their efforts, and caused them to scatter.

I desire every child of God to be anchored in the Word of God, Jesus, and in agreement with the Bible. For the people of God to take a stand in any other location unsupported by the Bible is to build on sand and fall during life's testing. Because what we believe was taught by people we trusted and loved does not make it the truth. Well-meaning people can be sincere but mistaken. The Bible must substantiate your claims. But, as difficult as it is to change, especially our minds, it will not be nearly as difficult as approaching Jesus unprepared.

Today, Christianity has abandoned the political term Ekklesia in favor of a more religious term, church. Also discarded was the establishment of the government of the Kingdom of God in the hearts of all believers. Adopted instead is a doctrine of escapism, a term I used to describe abandoning humanity and escaping to Heaven through the rapture of all believers.

Rapture is a non-biblical term not found in the Bible, nor is the concept of escape. It is also in direct opposition to Christ's command to go into the world and impact it by establishing His kingdom on the earth today. One of the main foundational verses in the Bible supporting this idea is 1 Thessalonians 4:13-17. However, these verses are about those who have died and are returning to claim their resurrected bodies; you remember---those dirt suits that you need for life and legality on earth, and are useless in Heaven. Jesus had both after His resurrection, making Him capable of impact in both places.

Neither is it precisely specified in these verses who is being resurrected and gathered. However, Revelation 20:4-5 says that not all the dead will participate in this resurrection, also suggesting that not all living believers will be involved.

Link to T/C

These man-made doctrines have made the church irrelevant and without impact today. It is the Lord's desire for His people to carry the government of the Kingdom of God into every cultural sphere of the world today. And impart His kingdom into the hearts of all people, culminating in the complete takeover of the world and earth with His power.

Rather than working fervently on establishing God's plan for the world, the church has forfeited it, agreed with the world, and has only its own agenda, abandoning the people to evil invaders.

The time and effort needed to rescue millions of babies, help the incarcerated, and support the starving, homeless, and naked was too much for those planning for departure. At least worthy of mention are the evil government leaders that have taxed and legislated the American people horrendously, cutting their freedom to almost zero because they now believe the church is not to be involved in politics. It would have taken only two things to solve the world's problems; consistent church involvement in Kingdom living and in every aspect of our culture.

The Kingdom of God is the only legitimate government existing in the world today.

Therefore, we must go into the world, preach the gospel of the Kingdom, and impact the culture with the character and wisdom found in the Word of God — Jesus.

These people who call good evil and evil good have invaded our schools, corrupting the children of future generations with their wicked plans. Yet, after allowing all of these things to come upon the world, God put them in charge of saving; they remain busy and adamant about attending their meetings to keep everyone excited about their escape to Heaven.

Escaping to Heaven is not God's agenda. The Bible must be seen and understood from the worldview of the Kingdom of God. Resurrection is a kingdom activity, not a religious one. He desires to establish salvation in the Kingdom of God in people's hearts. Worldwide preaching of the good news (gospel of God's Kingdom) is essential for this purpose. Repentance and immediately redirecting our concerns to the people we encounter daily are necessary if the world is to survive our current rebellion against God. We must present the Kingdom of God to people as Christ told us.

Link to T/C

Quit preaching what Jesus did.

Start preaching what Jesus mandated.

Then do what Jesus did.

He spoke of His and our kingdom eighty-five times in the Bible, revealing His heart to us, and told us to do likewise.

The Ekklesia

The people whom God has called forth from the world to represent Him in the world today are living organisms called the body of Christ. The individual functioning in this body is an ambassador. In the spiritual realm, their spirits are in perfect tune with the nature of Christ, which makes them in tune with each other, so they can perfectly represent the heart of their king to the world. There is no such thing as a church not in tune with Christ, only impostors in rebellion.

God has trained His ambassadors to disciple others into fully mature citizenship and relationships in God's kingdom. As the people develop God's nature, they join the embassy with those who make up the Ekklesia. Although each may have a different function as a believer, all are equal in importance as people.

God called leaders into the church, but as servants. Serving people is the "leadership" principle of the Kingdom of God. He will then deploy many of them into the world to proclaim the good news of the gospel and establish embassies wherever he sends them. But again, I remind you: this is a government in action, not a religious practice.

Today, we have people who have taken the name Christian for themselves; God has restored one language to them, nothing is impossible for them, they are a great city---four billion strong--- and they have invented their own way to Heaven.

God identifies us as citizens in Heaven, as His sons, as His ambassadors, and as kings and priests. Therefore, for us to do anything except agree with God is rebellion, which is sinful.

The Apostle John tells us in Revelation 12 that the spirit of the Babylonians was still very active in people, and God had finally judged them. So now is the time to come out from among them.

The Two Trees

Before God placed mankind in the Garden of Eden and gave him dominion there, He placed two notable trees in the garden. One was the Tree of Life, which was Jesus. The other tree was the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil. Eating the fruit of the Tree of Life brought life, whereas eating the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil brought death. Yet both trees were pleasant to look at and good for food. God had placed before Adam the free choice of life or death.

Jesus has returned kingdom dominion to man today, and God still provides two trees; they are pleasant to the eye and produce good food. But one has life, and one has death. The tree that produces death is a way for man to go that seems right, but results in death.

On the one hand, we have a book that God has given us. That book is a remanufactured tree; the leaves contain the fruit of the knowledge of good and evil. In John 5:39-40 AMP, Jesus clearly states that this book called the Bible does not have life. On the other hand, we have Jesus, who declares that He alone has life, and we must go to Him for that life to be ours.

Jesus alone is truth, He said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life." The Holy Spirit's mandate from the Father is to reveal Jesus (truth) to us. We cannot acquire or find truth through our intellect or efforts. We are dependent upon the Holy Spirit to do this. The Holy Spirit is sufficient in Himself and does not need a book to help Him with His duties. If we place our faith in and our dependence upon anything (Bible) or anyone (Pastor, etc.) other than Him to reveal the truth (Jesus) to us, we are double-minded and idolaters. We must love and receive the revelation of truth from the Holy Spirit alone. Failure to do so is not a very good option.

2 Thessalonians 2:10-12 KJV

(10) And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.

(11) And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:

(12) That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

Choose today whether you shall live or die. Ensure your diet is only from the Tree of Life, but in no way assume that the Bible is useless. Please read and come to know it well, but never seek to eat from it or follow it. Instead, follow Jesus, who is the living Word of God.

The Bible contains the covenant terms God has agreed to in the Old and New Covenants and is an invaluable source of that information. The Lord only deals with people through a covenant relationship. The world and its people are subject to the Old Covenant's promises and penalties. The Kingdom of God and its citizens are subject to and live under the promises of the New Covenant. There are no penalties because Christ became the curse and suffered the penalties for us.

The New Testament is the constitution for the Kingdom of God. Therefore, it is invaluable for citizens to use to secure their rights and responsibilities. The Father's good pleasure was to give us the kingdom and re-establish mankind's dominion over the earth.

Jesus was born to be a king, and He came to preach about that government (kingdom). He died so that He might establish it in His citizens' souls (minds). Kingdom law requires two or more witnesses to prove anything in the Kingdom of God. Therefore, when we witness God showing or speaking to us, we can go to the Bible and seek the second witness needed to carry out the task before us. For example, if God were to speak to us and tell us to heal someone, we could go to 1 Peter 2:24 and see where he said: "by His stripes, we were healed." We then have the second witness — Peter — to establish every word we speak concerning the healing.

Lordship in the Kingdom

Lord has the same meaning as owner, which displays a seldom mentioned principle in the Kingdom of God. The Lord owns everything in existence. He is the original manufacturer of all things. Everyone who lives or has ever lived was bought with a price and belongs to Him. When we claim we own something, e.g., a piece of land, we rebel against Him. God gave us the earth to use, but it is His to own. He gave us everything we could need or even want for life. But we must develop it from the earth. We don't need to go anywhere else to get the supplies we need to survive. However, our responsibility is to find what we need, produce it, multiply it, and distribute it to become wealthy and have a surplus. He readily provides the plans, strategies, and ideas we need to succeed.

Every person, thing, and even the food we consume is given to us by God for our use. God even owns our spouse. We are to tend to and care for them as God instructed. The man is to love the woman, and the woman is to respect the man. But all repairs are to be made by the owner. He is the only one qualified to make proper repairs. He manufactured it, and He alone can fix it.

Link to T/C

I recently had some significant problems with my home. I worried myself sick, trying to find answers and make needed repairs. Then, one evening while praying, the Lord sternly spoke to me about my house.

"I am the owner of that house. I do not appreciate anyone who takes my stuff and claims it as their own. I did not give it to you except to use and care for it. Stealing is taking someone's property without their permission. If you had not claimed it as your own and relied on me to repair my property, none of this would have happened. I would have told you what needed to be done to the property before the damage occurred. The damage and additional expenses result from your actions, not anyone else's. You must accept responsibility." That was a significant crisis for my wife and me. But the moment I repented and turned ownership and responsibility over to the proper owner, the situation was over for me. The problems did not disappear until later, but the crisis was no longer mine. God never has an emergency, only answers.

Now, I rejoice as I mow the lawn, maintain the house, or even clean it. I am doing it for the king. It is His house, and I work for Him. My relationships are improving as a result. I work harder at them because I am doing it for the king. My life has become a ministry unto the king. I love it.

The Helpmeet

Jesus ruled and overcame the world with agape love. If we rule as a king in His kingdom, we must do so with agape love. Our training for this promotion is at our home with our wife, children, pets, guests, etc. We are ready for advancement; if we can learn to rule over our house with the same love Christ uses to rule over His kingdom. If we cannot be faithful in the little that He has given us in our home to rule, how can we expect Him to provide us with a people or country to oversee?

Genesis 2:18 KJV

(18) And the LORD God said, It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him an help meet for him.

Genesis 2:21-22 KJV

(21) And the LORD God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam, and he slept: and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof;

(22) And the rib, which the LORD God had taken from man, made he a woman, and brought her unto the man.

The woman the Lord presented to man was to be his incubator in life. Whatever the man gave to the woman, she was to keep it safe, allow it to grow, and present it to the man. If he gave her sperm, she would give him a child. If he gave her a house, she would give him a home. If he gave her food, she would give him a meal. That is the nature that God built into the woman. Whatever he gave her came back increased and multiplied.

She cannot change the nature God gave her. Jesus said. "Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the ekklesia and gave himself for it." If we do this, she will return an abundance of love. But on the other hand, if we give her cruel practices, her nature demands that she multiply them and return them in due time with a significant increase. So, prepare for stormy weather and an increasing lack of respect.

IMPORTANT!!! If what you receive from your helper is unsuitable, then what you gave her is unacceptable. The answer to your dilemma is often not to change her. The answer lies within yourself. You are not who you think. You are fooling yourself. If what comes out of her is wrong, what you put in was terrible. It is time to go before the Lord and stay there until He reveals the problems to you and then reveals how to correct them. God designed her to reflect the true you so you could grow in wisdom and stature before man. God. She is only doing what God prepared her to do.

When choosing your helper, note what others have sewn into her before your arrival. You will reap that harvest, so prepare and choose wisely.

Prayer

Father, I come to you and kneel before you at the foot of the cross. I acknowledge you as the Lord of every aspect of my life. You are the Lord of my family, my personal relationships, my business relationships, my home, and everything I have. As the owner, I ask you to permit the Holy Spirit to partner with me and ensure my wealth in every area of my life. In return, I expect to care for everything you have given me.

I now ask you to forgive me of my sins and iniquities. Would you please heal the damage done to my soul by my misconduct and rebellion? I ask you also to remove all tares from my soul. Create in me a clean heart.

Please replace my rebellious spirit with your spirit of obedience, carrying the spiritual DNA of Father God.

With all my heart, I thank you for giving me new eternal life in Christ Jesus, connecting me as one person to the Godhead by placing my old man on the cross to die and giving me your Spirit to live in me.

Link to T/C

I ask the Holy Spirit to partner with me in living this new life, teaching me to unite and fellowship with Him in every area of my life. Allow Him to teach me who I am in Christ so that I may believe and practice that new creation.

I want to have the most incredible experience possible with God. Therefore, I now submit myself to the Holy Spirit to use in ministry and manifest Himself through me when and however He desires. I desire Him to teach me the language of Heaven to speak and understand so that I might converse freely from the heart with God the Father. As I lift my hands and soul to you, I submit myself entirely to you. I receive all that you have to give me, and I give all that I ever was, all that I am, and all I will ever be to you. Establish the fullness of your kingdom in me, in that name above all other names, I praise you, thank you, and give you glory and honor. In the name of Jesus, I ask. Amen!
